

Systemic Family Psychotherapy Training Intermediate Level: Contextualising Change

If you have completed the Foundation Level of a Systemic Family Psychotherapy Course and would like to continue your training at the Prudence Skynner Family and Couple Therapy Clinic, applications are now being accepted for the Intermediate Level Course (Year Two).

This course is accredited by the Association for Family Therapy and described as an “excellent training programme”. It enables professionals from a variety of statutory and voluntary organisations to further develop therapeutic skills with families, couples and individuals. All trainers are UKCP registered Family Therapists and use a variety of didactic and experiential methods.

We focus on systemic approaches across the life span, with a broad range of client groups, alongside deepening theoretical knowledge. Participants are expected to be able to complete at least 60 hours of systemic practice in their own work context over the duration of the course and bring material to the group for case consultation.

The course invites and promotes participants’ critical reflection around their beliefs and aspects of social difference, such as gender, race, ethnicity, spirituality and the richness these bring to our practice.

Course structure and length

The course will run from Autumn 2021 – July 2022 and is spread over 13 days, on a Thursday between 9.30am - 4.30pm. We currently anticipate being able to run the course face to face, subject to the relevant Government and Trust Covid-19 guidance.

Applications

Places are limited and will be offered after successful interview and two references. The closing date for applications is Friday 30th July 2021.

Fee

The course fee is £2,600.00. We have kept our fees competitively low recognising the ongoing impact of the pandemic.
